

Brenton™

Versatile case packing of tubs & flexible products

Brenton's small footprint, advanced, robotic top load case packer, provides customers with a versatile solution for packing a wide range of bags, pouches, tubes, flow wraps and other flexible products into cases or trays. Depending on customer needs, it can be configured for multiple packing patterns and for packing different products into the same case, such as a packaged tube and a related pouch.

- Runs unattended, reducing labor costs
- Adapts to packaging line speed
- Occupies similar floor space as hand pack operations
- Ideal for contract packagers, and the food/beverage, pharmaceutical, and personal goods industries
